We wrote something!! (Mark Guther, Andrea Gaugl, Scott Stepenuck) The following are all haiku verses. The webster definition for a haiku is as follows:

haikuhi-ku n. an unrhymed verse form of Japanese origin having three lines containing usually 5, 7, and 5 syllables respectively.

In the pronunciation thing ie the hi-ku the i should have a horizontal bar over it and the u should have two dots(umlout) over it.

Here we go with the flow of creativity....

a caving helmet
necessary annoying keeps rocks off your head

a caving helmet
place to store burned out cave lamp or make a fire ball

a caving helmet
if it makes it, I make it if not, then I'm stuck

IOCA Lake George
see Member at Large go nuts Square Dance your brains out

IOCA Square Dance have Fun and look like a Fool and slip in the Mud

IOCA Exec. Sec.
watch him Fly into Lake George looks like a Drowned Rat

IOCA Spring Break
we go down south to find snow Mud, Wet, Cold, Cave, Fun
